Suffixes -ment, -ful, -less, -ness and ly

A suffix is an 'ending' used at the end of a root word to form a new word. Sometimes, the root word has to be changed before a suffix is added.

Adding -ment can change a verb into a noun.
 Adding -ful or -less can change verbs or nouns into adjectives.
 Adding -ness can change an adjective into a noun.
 Adding -ly can change an adjective into an adverb.
